Starring: Owen Wilson, Rachel McAdams, Marion Cotillard, Michael Sheen

When American couple John and his wife Helen visit Paris on business, they are accompanied by their daughter Inez and her writer fiancé Gil. Gil is again smitten by Paris, regretting he didn't stay when he visited once before and hoping for inspiration to help him finish his first novel following a good run with Hollywood screenplays. After a late night walk on his own, Gil is urged by a happy crowd in a vintage car to join them at a party, which to his astonishment is full of famous writers and artists from the Paris of the 1920s, being entertained by Cole Porter at the piano. He soon meets the stunning Adriana, currently having an affair with Pablo Picasso and Gertrude Stein who offers to read his manuscript. Unsure of how all this happened, Gil returns to the midnight rendezvous point once more. Available 7 March - Outdoor from 7 May (TBC)

MOZART'S SISTER

Drama, Rated PG, 115 Minutes

Starring: David Moreau, Marie Féret, Marc Barbé, Delphine Chuillot

In French with English subtitles

It's 1763 and the Mozart family's exhausting life on the road involves travelling by coach from one royal court to the next, where the nobility marvel at young Wolfgang's prodigious talent. But it was accomplished singer, harpsichordist, violinist Nannerl, Wolfgang's elder by five years, who first held forth as the family's infant prodigy. She is still performing, though getting overshadowed and sidelined as accompanist to Wolfgang. Her father, Leopold, bows to social strictures 'for her own good,' refusing to let her continue with the violin or to compose, while privately conceding Nannerl's talent to his wife Anna-Maria. No longer a precocious tot, Nannerl chafes at the limitations imposed by her gender and frets about her prospects. Available 1 March - Outdoor from May (TBC)
